Emphasis of matters

Without qualifying our opinion above, we would like to draw the readers' attention to Notes No. V.5 and V.17 in the Notes to the Financial Statements regarding the fact that the Company is recognizing the receivables related to equitization expenses amounting to VND 582.742.500 and the payables carried forward from the period prior to equitization amounting to VND 30.291.229.630 after the Company has made finalization with the State Budget in accordance with Decision No. 179/QĐ-UBND dated 08 February 2023 of the People's Committee of Ca Mau Province on the approval of the equitization settlement. The receivable for privatization costs is pending settlement, so the Company has not offset it against the payable. The balances of the Company's payables to the State Budget depend on the decision of the competent State authority.

We also would like to draw the readers' attention to Note No. VII.1 in the Notes to the Financial Statements regarding the fact that the Company has not reflected the payment obligation in relation to forest environmental services from 2011 to 31 May 2023 in the Financial Statements due to the absence of official guidance from the competent authority on the payment and the Company has not received specific notification of the payable amount for this period.

these specific conditions are no longer existed and the buyer is not entitled to return the services provided.

- The Company received or shall probably receive the economic benefits associated with the provision of services.
- The stage of completion of the transaction at the end of reporting period can be measured reliably.

In the case that the services are provided in several accounting periods, the determination of revenue is done on the basis of the volume of work done as of the balance sheet date.

Interest

Interest is recorded, based on the term and the actual interest rate applied in each particular period.

14. Construction contracts

A construction contract is a contract specifically negotiated for the construction of a single asset or a combination of assets that are closely interrelated or interdependent in terms of their design, technology, function or ultimate purpose or use.

When the outcome of a construction contract can be estimated reliably:

- For construction contracts under which the contractor is entitled to progress payments based on an agreed schedule: contract revenue and contract costs are recognised by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity as determined by the Company itself at the balance sheet date.
- For construction contracts under which the contractor is entitled to payment based on volume of work performed: contract revenue and contract costs are recognised by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity that has been confirmed by the customer and evidenced by invoices issued.

Variations in contract work, claims and other additional revenues are recognised as contract revenue only when they have been agreed with the customer.

When the outcome of a construction contract cannot be estimated reliably:

- Contract revenue is recognised only to the extent of contract costs incurred that are probable of recovery.
- Contract costs are recognised as expenses upon incurrence.

The difference between the cumulative contract revenue recognised and the cumulative amounts billed to customers in accordance with the contractual progress billing schedule is presented as either amounts due from customers or amounts due to customers under construction contracts.

In case the borrowing costs are directly attributable to the construction or the production of an asset in progress, which takes a substantial period of time (over 12 months) to get ready for intended use or sales of the asset, these costs will be included in the cost of that asset. the purpose of construction of fixed assets and investment properties, the borrowing cost is eligible for capitalization even if construction period is under 12 months. Incomes arisen from provisional investments as loans are recognized as a decrease in the costs of relevant assets

In the event that general borrowings are partly used for the acquisition, construction or production of an asset in progress, the costs eligible for capitalization will be determined by applying the capitalization rate to average accumulated expenditure on construction or production of that asset. The capitalization rate is computed at the weighted average interest rate of the borrowings not yet paid during the year, except for particular borrowings serving the purpose of obtaining a specific asset.

16. Expenses

Expenses are those that result in outflows of the economic benefits and are recorded at the time of transactions or when incurrence of the transaction is reliable regardless of whether payment for expenses is made or not.

Expenses and their corresponding revenues are simultaneously recognized in accordance with matching principle. In the event that matching principle conflicts with prudence principle, expenses are recognized based on the nature and regulations of accounting standards in order to guarantee that transactions can be fairly and truly reflected.

17. Corporate income tax

Corporate income tax includes current income tax and deferred income tax.

Current income tax

Current income tax is the tax amount computed based on the assessable income. The assessable income is different from accounting profit due to the adjustments of temporary differences between tax and accounting figures, non-deductible expenses as well as those of non-taxable income and losses brought forward.

Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is the amount of corporate income tax payable or refundable due to temporary differences between book values of assets and liabilities serving the preparation of the Financial Statements and the values for tax purposes. Deferred income tax liabilities are recognized for all the temporary taxable differences. Deferred income tax assets are recorded only when there is an assurance on the availability of assessable income in the future against which the temporarily deductible differences can be used.

Carrying values of deferred corporate income tax assets are considered as of the balance sheet date and will be reduced to the rate that ensures enough assessable income against which the benefits from part of or all of the deferred income tax can be used. Deferred corporate income tax assets, which have not been recorded before, are considered as of the balance sheet date and are recorded when there is certainly enough assessable income to use these unrecognized deferred corporate income tax assets.

Deferred income tax assets and deferred income tax liabilities are determined at the estimated rate to be applied in the year when the assets are recovered or the liabilities are settled based on the effective tax rates as of the balance sheet date. Deferred income tax is recognized in the Income Statement. In the case that deferred income tax is related to the items of the owner's equity, corporate income tax will be included in the owner's equity.
